LAKE OKEECHOBEE as it's seen from 527 miles up and changed by a computer to show the patterns of chlorophyll. This is one of a series of portraits of the big lake being used in a LANDSAT satellite connected study being performed by a NASA physicist and a South Florida Water Management District research biologist.

through 527-mile high eye in sky

Scientist gets better look at Lake

BELLE GLADE-Mike Marshall decided he was so close to the Lake he couldn't see the phytoplankton so he stepped back to get a better picture... from more than 500 miles away.

Marshall is a research biologist for the South Florida Water Management District, remembered by many as the South and Central Florida Flood Control District, and he's three years into a study of patterns of turbidity and phytoplankton in Lake Okeechobee.

And since he was looking for patterns affecting the entire lake, he has been working with Janette Gervin, a member of the Earth Resources Branch of NASA's Kennedy Space Center, using photographs from the 527-mile high LANDSAT satellite retouched by a multi-million dollar computer programmed by Ms. Gervin.

LANDSAT passes over Lake Okeechobee every 18 days and takes photographs. The two scientists have come up with a reliable correlation between certain radiance bands measured by the satellite and the turbidity and chlorophyll in the lake.

Marshall said he had been gathering about the same type of information earlier but he was only able to collect samples at a few points and at considerable time and effort.

"We're really excited about the findings," Marshall said. "All along, we've been looking at the lake in bits and pieces. Now we can see it the way it really is, as a large, interacting body."

"We can see it as a whole now," he said. "We need that to help us fully understand the lake, the heart of the water management and supply system in South Florida. I think this is a good start in a very important direction."

An example of what the satellite program can offer is one thing Marshall said he was aware of all along, that the reef across the southern tip of the lake affects the circulation in the water south of it.

"But when I saw it in the LANDSAT photographs for the first time," he said, "I almost freaked out."

Marshall said another example of possibilities came up when he noticed a concentrated amount of turbidity in an area which didn't fit in with the rest of the lake. Checking back, he found there had been some backpumping on the date in question.

He said he doesn't have a definite correlation between turbidity and nutrients but that it is a possibility in the future.

The biologist said the first two years of the project were pretty busy ones for him because to verify the accuracy of the LANDSAT photographs, he sampled the water in the lake at 20 specified points every 18 days when the satellite went overhead to take pictures.

Marshall said the samples proved out the findings from the photos between 90 and 95 per cent of the time in most instances.

One of the odd results of the program thus far, he said, is the correlation between chlorophyll, used to measure the presence of the plankton in the lake, and

March of Dimes Walkathon to benefit children of the Glades

BELLE GLADE-Equipment, and possibly a center, to treat infants born with birth defects in the Glades area is the goal of the March of Dimes which will benefit from the Fifth Annual Glades Walkathon on March 19.

With little more than a week before the Blister Brigade strikes out from Belle Glade to Pahokee, expecting to meet with a Pahokee contingent at Rardin Park, in a 20 mile trek to raise money for the March of Dimes, Glades Coordinator Jim Huggins is stepping up the pace of preparations.

Huggins and Palm Beach County March of Dimes Executive Bo Stein met this week with the Belle Glade Rotary and Lions Clubs to attempt to get commitments from the two civic clubs to walk the 20 miles or work in some other capacity.

"We're running an investigation right now," Stein told the two civic clubs, "on what is needed in the hospitals here and in Pahokee so we won't have to rush intensive care babies from the Glades to Jackson Memorial in Miami."

"The March of Dimes can provide a lot of equipment to Glades General and Everglades Memorial to help treat babies born with defects," he said.

But as nice as that would be, Huggins said later that the equipment isn't the extent of plans. He said March of Dimes officials are already talking about building a birth defect center, similar to the one in West Palm Beach, partially funded by past Glades Walkathons, in the Glades. Huggins said such a center could be incorporated into one of the two hospitals already in the Glades or could stand by itself.

Still another possibility Huggins mentioned was incorporating the center into a hospital proposed for erection in Pahokee by Mel Tillis.

He said no one has approached Tillis but the hospital he has in mind would be for children.

Huggins said plans for Superwalk '77, the nickname for this year's event, are rapidly maturing, but he still needs a considerable amount of help in manning checkpoints and other errands.

He and Stein told the Rotarians and Lions more adults are signing up to walk this year and said

all bids are low

City hall bid to be let Fri.

BELLE GLADE-A contract is expected to be awarded at 2 p.m. Friday, probably to Blanton and Unwin, for the construction of a new city hall in McDonald Park, and the $592,840 of De Vos Construction of Lake Worth.

The city has already received a $750,000 federal grant and Sanders said the city won't have to return the surplus but will have to spend the money within guidelines.

All of which is a definite turnaround since the last time the city went to bids for a city hall in 1974, which was expected to cost $600,000 and received only one bid, with a price tag of $1,066 million.

The city commission at that time turned down the bid amidst a public uproar, directed Miami architect Homer Daniel to come up with alternate plans, killed those plans and finally turned to Belle Glade architect Chester Cone to come up with completely new plans.

This is the kind of problem I don't mind tackling," City Commissioner Tom Altman said of the surplus during a workshop session Monday night. He seemed to reflect a general satisfaction felt by the other commissioners over the range of the bids.

The bids went from Blanton and Unwin's low to the high bid of $644,484 made by Wallace Lutz of Belle Glade, including the $576,736 bid of Blackwell Construction of Miami, the $559,700 bid by Mark I Construction of Pompano Beach, and the $592,840 of De Vos Construction of Lake Worth.

Bids for the construction, which will take place behind the library in McDonald Park, were expected to run more than $700,000.

The commission expects to award the bid in a special session Friday as part of an effort to beat a 90-day deadline on the time between the award was made official on Jan. 3 to the time construction must actually be underway on April 2.

In the meantime, a preconstruction conference must be held with federal officials and the contractor and final approval must be given.

An item related to the planned city hall came up during the Monday night workshop when Sanders asked the commissioners for a go-ahead on purchasing furniture for the city fire station now under construction.

The fire station is also being built by Blanton and Unwin and it too came in well under the expected price of $250,000. Because of the savings realized by the Pahokee firm's $182,000 bid price, and the fact the city hall is being built with federal funds, the commissioners seemed receptive to Sanders' proposal to install new, uniform beds and lockers.

Since this is going to be a city complex," Sanders said, "I thought you might want to make it a showplace, with groups being taken through it."

The commissioners told Sanders to go ahead and advertise for bids on the 12 beds, 12 lockers and drapes although Sanders said he could get the lockers for well under $1,000, the point at which governmental agencies must bid by law.

Commissioner Aubrey Farmer said he thought the firefighters should buy other items, such as a couch and chair for the station day room, ash trays and flatware for the kitchen but he received little support from the other commissioners.

The first time I ever went to Pahokee, now almost five years past, one of those beautiful Royal Palms that line SR 715 threw a leaf at me.

And the same thing happened again just the other day.

Normally, I don't mind trees dropping their foliage on me, but when a single leaf weighs better than 20 pounds, I get a little leary. Especially when you consider my mode of transportation—a Volkswagen.

Happily, for both car and driver, the palms have a lousy aim. But it's getting better. The first missed by feet and the second by inches.

My dodging ability, however, has grown immensely as well. When one drives a VW, he drives very defensively and keeps away from semis and falling palm branches.

And I have learned that while driving down the road, surrounded by royal palms, one keeps an eye on the road and an eye in the sky.

And he makes out fine.

Royal palms are beautiful trees, as I said back a ways. But I can't understand why some folks have to get out their spray paint and attempt to improve on their looks.

So-and-so loves somebody else and each class feels bound to illuminate its year of graduation in foot-high letters.

While I can understand their enthusiasm for these momentous occasions, I really wish they could pick something a little less busy than a royal palm to draw upon.

Spent the weekend in Moore Haven at the annual Chalo Nitka festivities and really enjoyed being back at the old home town. We saw a lot of people we haven't seen in quite some time and met a few new ones.

One of the new ones was an old Moore Haven girl who now calls Belle Glade home, Cathy Miller, the former Cathy Whiddon.

Cathy is kin to a clan known throughout the Glades, but concentrated in Glades County. She is now married to Lt. Mike Miller of the Glades Police Department, from what I hear, one of the city's most able young officers.

If you've never been to a Chalo Nitka, put it on your agenda next year. It has to be one of the best small-town festivals in the area and is most certainly the oldest.

This year, the Chalo Nitka book, which is published annually, was dedicated to Harold DeTar. Harold is well known all around the lake for his work with various Chambers of Commerce and fishing contests.

Harold was certainly deserving of the honor because he has been carrying the ball on Chalo Nitka for a number of years, along with such other events like the Thialthio Tumka flyfishing contest and the Busman's Glady contest. Our congratulations to him.

Opinion

Letters to the Editor

ERA: PRO.....AND CON

Dear Editor,

The West Palm Beach area League of Women Voters supports the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment.

The Equal Rights Amendment simply states:

Section 1. Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Section 2. The Congress shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

Section 3. This amendment shall take effect two years after the date of ratification.

It should be noted that the wording of the amendment is very often misconstrued. The amendment does not say that men and women will become the same. It does say that they should be treated with equal justice under the law. The amendment pertains only to areas covered in national, state and local statutes and to governmental bodies. It will NOT affect private relationships in any way.

The ERA would become a part of the same constitution which grants the right to privacy.

The amendment will have no effect on ongoing marriages. A few states require a husband to provide his wife with the necessities of life, but the courts will not intervene to enforce these statutes unless the woman seeks legal separation or a divorce. Women will not be forced to enter the labor force and contribute 50% of the financial support to the household. In fact, passage of the ERA will help bring much deserved recognition of the very real work these women already do in their homes and in the community.

Alimony, child support, and right to custody of children in divorce cases are now - and would be under the ERA - decided on an individual basis, with the courts considering non-monetary as well as financial contributions to the family made by each partner, and each spouse's earning power and current resources.

The most frequently misunderstood word in the amendment is the word "sex". The word "sex" in the amendment is used merely to connote gender, i.e. male and female. It should not be mistakenly read as sexual behavior.

Many people fear that ratification of the ERA would mean the legalization of homosexual marriage. The intent of Congress on this matter was clearly stated in the Congressional Record (March 21, 1972). The amendment would not interfere with a state prohibiting marriage between two people of the same sex, so long as the laws applying to men also apply to women.

The ERA is equally innocuous in the area of abortion. Ratification of the ERA would simply not affect the issue of abortion.

What the ERA would do is require each state to re-write, in terms of function rather than sex, those laws which discriminate against either males or females. Women would no longer be considered as a "class"; nor would men be considered as a "class". For the first time in the history of this country, the value and dignity of each of us as individuals would be recognized by the Constitution.

Anyone who would like more information on the ERA or who want an address in order to write to a legislator, please call the league members at 964-1995.

Sincerely,
Irene Dickson,
President, League of Women
Voters of the West Palm Beach area

Dear Sir:

Do you know there are two different E.R.A. programs? The E.R.A. we see on television, hear on radio and read about in the nation's leading newspapers is one kind.

Women and men in high positions of prominence are pushing for it. Others are doing all they can to stop it. This E.R.A. is not worth the effort or concern it's receiving across our great nation—see North Carolina.

But I want to tell you the true E.R.A. was settled for time and eternity, according to the Holy Word of God, when Jesus was born in a stable in Bethlehem (see over nineteen hundred years ago, just as the prophecies of the Old Testament predicted. The Jewish people looked for the Savior but did not realize He had come in human form as the baby Jesus. Therefore, they did not accept Him and His true E.R.A.

The Old Testament tells us Jesus was coming. Yes, the New Testament tells us Jesus was and still is the Son of God, Son of Man and the Savior of the World. There is more proof that Jesus came into this world and offered the true E.R.A. to all who would accept Him as Lord and Savior of all, and died on Calvary's Cross for my sins and your sins than there is proof that Abraham Lincoln was once President of the United States of America. The Bible is read all over the world. Books about Abraham Lincoln do not compare in scope.

God's E.R.A. means that you must explain: another word is confess, your sins to Jesus Christ and repent with all your mind, heart and soul, ask Jesus Christ to save you and give you a home in Heaven when this earthly life is over.

While Jesus was on this earth, Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth and the life, no man comes to the Father but by me."

God said, "This is my beloved Son, hear ye Him." John 3:16 reads, "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

John 3:17 reads, "For God sent His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved." This means the people of every race and color. Dear reader, will you hear the A. of God's E.R.A., which means accept Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. Jesus paid the price, took my sins and yours and the whole world's sin and shed His blood to cover them, died once or all sins. He died, was buried and arose alive forever on the third day. I have accepted Jesus as Savior. I know where I am going when this earthly life is over. Do you dear reader? Why not accept Jesus today?

...And one more word

What with the controversy over whether the Florida legislature should pass the Equal Rights Amendment coming up again, all the scare-type arguments which no one can really answer seem to be coming out again, hinged to the letter-writing campaigns of the past.

Seems to us, though, the arguments about women being exposed to the draft, about uni-sex restrooms, about who gets custody of children and/or alimony in the case of a divorce, etc., etc., ad infinitum, ad nauseum, are moot at best.

All the amendment spells out is that there should be no discrimination because of one's sex.

And that's a general enough terms the federal judges are going to have a field day with it...and that's what it's going to be reduced to, a series of opinions by judges.

Opinions, according to Darryl Royal, are like noses. Everyone has one. But the opinions that count in this case belong to the men in the black robes.

If you think those men have a good track record in interpreting the Constitution so far, you'll probably be pro-ERA. If you don't, you won't.

Nuff said.

What doesn't work?

When a person begins on the ground floor of a business and works his way to the executive suite, that's a cause for celebration.

But when a person starts in the basement and winds up in that executive suite, it's time for community-wide congratulations.

That's the case with Hercules Culler and we'd like to add our congratulations to the man who began his career at Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association as a janitor 15 years ago and was promoted a couple of weeks ago to the position of loan service officer.

To quote Culler himself, "When you can do that, anything's possible," even the presidency.

And when one considers the Culler family has made the jump from fieldworker to banking officials, it proves upward mobility in America is no myth...at least in companies as progressive as Everglades Federal.

Now, what was that song and dance to the tune, "The system doesn't work?"

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

The wheels of justice, according to the poet, grind slow—but exceedingly fine.

Well, compared to the wheels of bureaucracy, the wheels of justice oughta be at Indianapolis for Daytona.

I was poring over the 1976 issues of The Herald last week, for reasons which escape me now, and a couple of stories in the February 1976 caught the eye.

Like the one about the Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club collecting supplies for the victims of the Guatemala earthquake. (My God, was that only last year? Seems like two or three years ago now.)

Then there were the ones about the Belle Glade City Commission firing a letter off to the DOT requesting the construction people four-laning North Main Street to keep one lane of traffic open and talking about building a Lake-shore Recreation Center.

Well, construction has begun on the recreation center at least but Crabtree still hasn't left a lane of traffic open from the canal to Airport Road.

See what I mean?

The DOT's deep concern about the people of Belle Glade, such as the business owners just north of Hillsboro Canal, might not be accurately measured by the letter sent by the city commission but there have been others and the only thing they were requesting was enforcement of a state law.

But we have to realize the DOT, like most bureaucracies, probably need some time to take care of these things and they've only had a little more than a year.

Wonder what the case might be if the construction were to go on for another 20 years. Guess the good people on North Main like Mr. Garcia would shrivel up and blow away.

But what's a business or residence or three. Write it up to progress.

Never mind they managed to keep a lane open north of Airport Road and two companies doing work south of Avenue E did the same.

Those are the wheels of progress.

Some wheels! Some slow!

Voice from the Wilderness

by Andy Campanaro

In a small news story, a sociological survey shows that a nation, we Americans dislike poor people.

According to the study, most Americans associate poverty with "moral failure." Poor people are unpopular because they cost society money, threaten the work ethic and challenge the comforting notion that individuals have control over their own lives.

"Poor people have no control, their existence may do all those things. And, yes I do think of them as 'moral failures'."

At the risk of blowing my own horn, I'd like to just mention a few things.

I have never received but two job offers in my entire life. Yet I have had some 50 jobs in about 18 years, doing everything from dynamite driller, construction gas jockey, to barber, stenographer, editor and advertising sales.

I have spent every week—with the exception of vacation time—at work or in school since I was nine years old.

I have never received one red cent from any type of governmental employment or unemployment service, food stamp office, or monetary benefit from any government to date. This despite the fact I applied for food stamps between jobs last year and unemployment twice. But because I told the truth about my income, I did not receive food stamps.

The interviewer candidly told me if I had failed to give certain information that I wouldn't ordinarily have given in the interview, would have qualified. In unemployment, I didn't play their game and stick around the office to report every week. I was out looking for jobs and in both cases, found a job before I could get forms through for my first check.

Government has shown me nothing, but undefined individuals, lumped together under the term "poor" constantly rob me of some 25 percent of my paycheck.

I should be thankful?

Win sectional game Saturday

Blue Devils go to state

PAHOKEE—The Blue Devils pulled off another clean victory Saturday night, 109-83, in the Class AA sectional game against Miami Belen before a standing room only crowd in the Pahokee High School gym.

The leading scorer for Pahokee was Joe Brown with 25 points. Other double figure scorers following Brown were James Burroughs with 23, Ronnie Rainey with 20, Rickey Jackson with 17, and John Pringle with 12.

Ricky Jackson led the team with 30 rebounds, followed by James Burroughs with 19 and Ronnie Rainey with 18. The team managed 17 turnovers against Miami Belen.

WSWN AM/FM Radio Station in Belle Glade will be broadcasting the Pahokee basketball games Friday and Saturday, beginning at 3:25 p.m.

With that win the Blue Devils earned a trip to the State Playoff games in Lakeland. In the playoff, Pahokee will be up against Havana at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow. The winner of that game will play the winner of todays 3:30 p.m. game between Alachua Santa Fe and Clearwater Central Catholic. That final Class AA game will begin at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

When asked what his big game plan was, Coach Eddie Rhodes replied "prayer." For Rhodes has word that Havana, located 6 miles outside of Tallahassee, is the best in the area. But Pahokee is also a superb basketball team so it should be a competitive match-up. "I think we can beat anybody now," Rhodes said. "The boys are really enthusiastic." That enthusiasm showed through from player Ricky Jackson who has been a leading rebounder for Pahokee. "I think we're gonna take it all", Jackson said. The only worry Coach Rhodes seems to have is that enthusiasm will turn to overconfidence. "I don't think they'll get the big head though. That's the only thing that could hurt us now."

Pahokee gridders sign college grant-in-aids

PAHOKEE—Pahokee High School's winning football season has produced two players who have already signed with leading out-of-state universities to play football.

Ricky Jackson of 860 Palm Blvd., son of Lela Pearl Lawson, will be playing defensive and offensive end for the University of Pittsburgh while James Burroughs of 789 Padgett Circle, son of Annie Bell Brown, will play safety for Michigan State.

Both Jackson and Burroughs were named to the football all-conference, all-area and all-state teams and the first-team defense of the Palm Beach Post.

They are now playing basketball and reading for Friday's trip to Lakeland to participate in Pahokee High's vie for the Class AA state title.

Pahokee will be losing 18 seniors

James Burroughs, left, and Ricky Jackson, right have signed to play college football in the fall. Coach Antoine Russell, center, will be losing eighteen seniors for the 1976 football squad, Burroughs will go to Michigan State and Jackson has signed with the University of Pittsburgh. Staff Photo

Bridge Club winners told

BELLE GLADE—The Bridge Club met this past Tuesday at the St. John's Episcopal Church.

ALL ABOARD! THE SIMON TRAIN

The week long Lehigh Spring Festival held this past week at Lehigh in Lee County, Florida, was the best organized celebration I have attended.

Festival President Charlie Methany arranged for Burl Ives to serve as Grand Marshall. Mr. Ives performed at the Lehigh Auditorium Friday night. My wife and I found his ninety minute show and found him charming backstage during a visit. The California based Illinois native received good response throughout the performance and he was awarded a standing ovation for his arrangement of the 1861 composition entitled, "The Bluetail Fly", written by the composer of "Dixie".

Ron Drake, Manager of the Lehigh Resort Motel, was responsible for presenting bluegrass music. Local Club Coach group "Foxfire" opened the entertainment followed by "American Bluegrass Express", the Red Henry Band and Chubby Anthony's Big Timber Band.

The Ft. Myers Symphonic Wind Ensemble under the directorship of Bob Clark changed the pace of the bluegrass by performing show tunes such as "Oklahoma" and marches such as "Stars and Stripes".

The Second Annual Ukelele Bluegrass Convention runs Friday through Sunday starting The Lewis Family, Ralph Stanley and ten other bluegrass bands.

Ticket prices are $5 Friday, $7 Saturday and $6 Sunday. Three day passes are $15 per person which includes camping in the ruff.

Every member campaign is under way

PAHOKEE—An "every member in attendance" campaign has been launched at the Pahokee United Methodist Church as part of the observance of Lent. In this program every member is asked to make a special effort to be in church every Sunday through Easter.

The council on ministries of the church is asking all members to cooperate in this program, not only by attending every Sunday but by visiting and calling on members who may not have been attending regularly and urging them to be in attendance during this holy season.

Another Lenten emphasis of the church is that of giving a special offering to help feed the hungry people of the world. Each member is asked to give the price of at least one meal each week from now until Easter. The cost of this meal will help alleviate the plight in lands where hunger is a great problem.

Commissioners pool comments on rose gardens and recreation

BELLE GLADE—The city could wind up with two of the most expensive municipal rose gardens in the state or, depending on which city commissioners get their way Mon. night, two swimming pools in operation for the first time in four years.

Mayor W.R. "Ralph" Kirk declared he has been against repairing the municipal pool, which hasn't been used in at least four years, and he is still against it. "I'm in favor of repairing both pools," Commissioner Tom Altman countered, "and if Bill (Commissioner Willie Grear) and I can get another vote, that's what we're going to do."

The swimming pools came up in a discussion at a workshop session Monday night when City Manager Robert Sanders told the commissioners he has received an estimate of $25,000 to repair the municipal pool. The subject will come up again Monday during the regular commission meeting.

During the workshop, however, City Recreation Director Johnny Rutledge told the commissioners the city won't be able to open the Lakeshore Swimming Pool either unless extensive repairs are made. Rutledge said the Palm Beach County Health Department has informed him that unless the pool's filters are replaced, the pool won't be fit to swim in and must remain closed.

Cotton Club raid nets marijuana

BELLE GLADE—Law enforcement officers from three agencies arrested two men on drug charges Friday as part of a continuing investigation by city police and collapsed three more on gambling charges in a "featured subjects" aside to the main raid.

The raid on the Cotton Club at 283 S.W. Fifth St. was only the latest in a series over the last two months in an investigation of drugs in Belle Glade by City Detective J.R. Eberle. A Palm Beach County Sheriff's detective and two state beverage agents assisted nine city police officers in the coordinated attack.

Willie G. Theagene, 24, of 341 S.W. Fifth St. was charged with possession of less than five grams of marijuana and James Edward Williams, 22, of 329 S.W. Fifth St. was charged with possession of more than 10 grams of marijuana in the raid.

Eberle and Belle Glade Police Detective Lt. George Farnall said the officers also confiscated 11 "lids" of cocaine, 17 bags of marijuana, a number of syringes, a tape player, a movie projector, three citizens band radios and $13 in cash.

As a bonus to the raid, planned and executed with a search warrant issued by County Judge Don Adams, Belle Glade Detective Tim Corderman also arrested three men in a laundry nearby who were apparently so busy with their crime game they didn't see the raid going on at the bar.

Corderman arrested Charles Irving, 33, William C. Tomms, 23 and Dudley Gary, Jr., 27, addresses unknown, and confiscated the money on the floor of the washroom.

Assisting in the raid were Cliff Demerit and David Shoemaker of the State Beverage Department in West Palm Beach and Sheriff's Office Detective Albert Harper.

Other city officers involved were Detective Curtis Stangbaugh, Sgt. Leroy Carrigan, Identification Officer Norman Hevey and Patrolmen Charles Enderle and Ray Hamilton.

The problem, he said, is that the filter tanks are rusted out and they can't be removed without cutting them up, nor can new ones be installed without cutting them up or cutting a hole in the building where they're housed.

The municipal pool will take major repairs to the drain system to correct. Estimates for repairs in the past have ranged from a low of $8,000 to a high of more than $80,000 but Sanders said Hutchison Engineers have provided the $25,000 estimate to put the pool back in shape.

While the city's franchise taxes were obligated, under the bond issue which paid for the pools, for upkeep and repair of the two recreation facilities until last year, that is no longer true and no funds have been budgeted to repair the pools this year, despite pleas from Commissioner Grear and Altman during budget sessions.

At the suggestion of Commissioner Kenneth Harris, when the pool came up during a regular commission meeting last month, Grear contacted the county school system to see if the schools would help share in the cost of repairing the pool, since area schools have expressed interest in using them for their swimming teams.

"I'm going to hold you to that if we do repair the pools," Harris said. "I want it on the record," he said he felt the pools should be primarily for the use of city residents.

"We don't have any commitment to the schools," Altman said. "If they want to use the pool, they can pay for it."

Complaints result in public notice

BELLE GLADE—Complaints of higher water bills have resulted in a notice which will be given to city residents in the future anytime the water rate is changed.

City Public Works Director Ron Signon said the notice, which lets residents know their water bills may be higher because the new meters would register all the water used at the home while the old one may not have, is needed because many recipients of new meters have complained about the sudden increase in their bills.

Signon said the residents generally think the increase comes as a result of poor meter reading.

In other business, the commission discussed but decided to hold off decisions until later workshops agreements to provide water to the Palm Beach Junior College Campus and Glades Correctional Institution.

that's an encouraging sign. They said all the area schools will be approached in an attempt to recruit walkers over the next week.

Registration for the walk will begin, as it did last year, at 7 a.m. on the Fritz Stein property on the west side of SR 715 across from Northwest Avenue L.

The first step will be made at 8 a.m. and the walkers will go through a series of checkpoints at Hooker Highway, Rardin Park, and Palm Beach County Airport just south of Pahokee and the Pahokee City Park before turning around and returning.

Huggins said the featured walker this year will be Belle Glade Mayor W.R. "Ralph" Kirk, who has challenged the

And for those who still feel lively enough after the 20 mile trek, David Lowman and Simon Train are putting together a musical treat for March 20, the day after the walk.

The Second Annual March of Dimes Country Music Festival will be kicked off at noon at the Belle Marina, with at least six bands and individual performers providing entertainment for all comers at the rate of $2 a head, with all proceeds going to the March of Dimes.

Peggy Lowman's own Southern Express, Miss Peggy King and Sonny Bailey will sing and three other bands included in the songfest will be the Limited Edition Bluegrass Band, the Moon Lighters and Southern Comfort.

Huggins said this will be a chance for all the ladies who took part in the walk to take their ease because hamburgers and hot dogs, along with soft drinks, will be available in concession stands.

BELLE GLADE—Membership, image and a new home were the main subjects of interest Thursday when members of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce executive committee met with six past presidents at the Holiday Inn.

Current president Dr. Cecil Conley told the past presidents the directors now feel the chamber may not have the image it should and said he'd like to get the input of former presidents on this as well as other goals and questions.

The goal more of the past presidents seem interested in than any other was the proposed new city hall, with several inquiring about its status.

One of those former presidents, City Attorney John Baker, told Conley how he would advise the board to push the project with the city commission. He said as far as he knew, there had been no formal action taken by the commission.

Baker advised Conley to first decide what the board has done and set up an informal meeting with City Manager Robert Sanders to acquaint him with the history of the building, then get on the city agenda and let the commissioners know the goals and target date.

He said the chamber board could at that time ask for a feedback date at which time the commissioners could suggest alterations.

"The city isn't going to be a self-starter on this project," Baker said.

The past presidents told Conley they didn't think the chamber has a bad image but one suggestion which came up was that the board should begin again a former tradition of sending quarterly newsletters to the membership at large.

Ben Clarke said the newsletters were instituted by Don Fiehs when Fiehs was president and he (Clarke) had continued them.

"I don't know how you can expect the members to know what you're doing for them," Clarke said, "if you don't tell them."

Baker said he felt one of the biggest obligations the board of directors has is to acquaint itself of what's going on in the community, both in problems and projects.

He said two projects the Chamber could have become involved in recently have been the marina now under construction by the South Florida Water Management District and the fight to get cut-through on the median on SR80 in front of Travelers Motor Lodge. He also suggested the chamber become involved in the upcoming effort to get a county charter approved.

South Florida Sanitation wins pickups

BELLE GLADE—The city commission directed City Manager Robert Sanders Monday night to notify city residents who have been annexed into the city since 1972 their garbage would be picked up by South Florida Sanitation, Inc. after April 1.

In making the decision, the commissioners took the advice City Attorney John Baker offered Feb. 14 that South Florida has a legal right spelled out in franchise given by the Palm Beach County Commission in 1972.

Baker said he didn't think there would be any trouble over who would pick up garbage at city-owned properties annexed during that time, such as the city garbage dump and the Belle Glade Airport. South Florida General Manager W.L. Cunningham asked the city to notify the residents of Arrowhead Estates that South Florida will commence pick-ups in that area.

It was voted on by the directors to continue sponsoring the annual fourth of July fireworks display. It was also voted on to continue donating a subscription of the magazine "Florida Trend" and have it sent directly to the local library for use by the public.

Escribe Jose Antonio Garcia

Si usted leyó la revista Replicá del 5 de Enero de 1977, habrá encontrado en ella un horoscopo de "Santaria" en que se ponen las deidades africanas traídas a Cuba en tiempo de la colonia española por los negros esclavos. En la revista se pueden contemplar a una infinidad de "Santos Católicos" con un sobrenombre, o más bien dicho, con doble personalidad en un culto religioso ambiguo en que se mezcla santaria y catolicismo. Para citar algunos: aparecen "Santa Barbara" como Chango y "La Caridad del Cobre" como Ochum; esto por lógica muestra el incremento de estas creencias en el exilio, como es obvio, la revista publica lo que mas se lee.

Hace alrededor de 3 a 4 años la WQBA "La Cubanísima" presento a un Santero de nombre Cane, en que el Sr. Emilio Millan hacia de moderador. El Sr. Cane, ducho en la materia estuvo varios dias dando explicaciones contestando preguntas sobre la Santaria en Cuba, recibiendo tanto acogidas como criticas, y como es logico el consabido asombro de muchas personas catolicas, ante la declaracion del Sr. Cane de que ellos compartian como santeros con el Cabildo de las fiestas religiosas. Una senora trato de desmentirlo y el ratifico el hecho con absoluta firmeza.

Todos sabemos que los pueblos de Regla y Guanabacoa eran famosos en Cuba por estas practicas religiosas fusionadas, que se define como SINCRETISMO. El diccionario Larousse lo define: "Cotenido filosofico o religioso que pretende conciliar varias doctrinas diferentes. Pero, sabe usted el origen del sincretismo afrocubano? Esto se extiende a los dias de la colonia espanola en que el gobierno espanol y el clero, ante el incremento de la poblacion negra, no tuvieron escrúpulos en fusionar las bien arraigadas creencias de los africanos con la unica religion entonces existente en la isla de Cuba.

El motivo es obvio, el negro soportaba maltrato, vejacion, golpes, violaciones de sus mujeres etc, etc, pero se rebelaban cuando les tocaban sus creencias, y como tales, hoy despues de 3 siglos, las creencias traídas a Cuba estan intactas tal y como llegaron a la isla; y para verguenza de los responsables, el hombre blanco, no convirtio al negro a su religion, por el contrario el negro fue firme en su creer, ya fuera por fanatismo o conviccion. A esto lo acompañaron los ritos y la musica africana con sus ritmos contagiosos que inundaron la isla hasta el dia de hoy. Como ejemplo tenemos: La tumbadora, el bombo, la charanga, la Chambelona, la comparsa, la conga el bembé etc etc.

Hoy hay miles de blancos cubanos que no practican el cristianismo de la Biblia, por el contrario, practican las creencias traídas del Africa de hace 3 siglos. YA ES MUY TARDE, y por eso el silencio de los guias religiosos ante la ola de sincretismo religioso, ante la cual se ven impotentes. Ejemplo de esto fue la reaccion de muchas personas en Miami, cuando el papa de Roma declaro oficialmente que Santa Barbara no era Santa; recordara usted querido lector la protesta de muchas personas al respecto.

Toda persona sincera le seria de mucho provecho escuchar las palabras de Jesucristo en Juan 4:24 tomado de la Biblia Catolica de Nacar-Colunga: Dios es espiritu, y los que le adoran han de adorarle en espiritu y en verdad. Pag. 1105 La segunda epistola de San Juan Capitulo 5:21 dice textualmente Hijitos, guardaos de los IDOLOES. Pag. 1263. En el Decalogo Los 10 mandamientos de la ley de Moises pag. 104 dice en la propia Biblia Catolica: Exodo 20:4-5 No te haras esculturas ni imagen alguna de lo que hay en lo alto de los cielos, ni de lo que hay en las aguas debajo de la tierra, 5-No te postiras ante ellas, ni las servirás porque yo soy Yave tu Dios...Nota-Yave es el nombre de Dios igual que Jehova en la Biblia catolica del Dr. Felix Torres Amat. Por esto amigo catolico, lea su Biblia y llegara a conocer la verdad, pues la Biblia es la palabra de Dios, hay muy buenas traducciones catolicas en nuestro idioma como la citada aqui: Nacar-Colunga, investigue lo que usted cree y sera libre. Juan 8:32.

Lecture is scheduled by William Milford Correll

The basic need everyone has for appreciation, respect, and love can be met, says a Christian Science lecturer, but not by adding people or things to our lives.

In his lecture to be given in Belle Glade on March 14, at 725 N.W. 4th St. (Civic Center) at 8:00 p.m., William Milford Correll stresses that as long as we believe that we're going to find the answers in people or circumstances "we are always going to feel a measure of discontent, dissatisfaction and deficiency -- we are never going to fill the void."

But the sense of being loved and valued, and the feeling of well-being that this brings, he points out, comes from the understanding that we are not cut off from God -- that He truly is our Father who loves and cherishes each one of His children. And as this awareness grows, it takes practical form in our lives -- solutions to problems begin to be found.

This close relationship between God and man must be understood so that we can identify ourselves correctly and realize the heritage of the sons and daughters of God. There is nothing automatic about gaining this understanding and it may not come overnight, says Correll, who deals with the whole range of human problems as one of those in the healing ministry of Christian Science. It takes a Christianization of life, he points out, and a sincere, diligent effort to know God.

The congregation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Belle Glade, invited members of the community to come to this free Christian Science lecture. Mr. Correll will be introduced by Mrs. Gayle Palmer.

A graduate of Oberlin College, Mr. Correll has been a Christian Science practitioner since the end of his World War II service in France.

He became a teacher of

Mr. Correll

Christian Science in 1952; served as First Reader of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts; and as Associate Editor of the Christian Science religious periodicals.

The Knowledge of the Lord

Habakkuk 2:14. "For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

The Church is chosen of God to spread the good news that God has a plan to redeem men and reconcile them unto Himself through the vicarious sacrifice of Jesus Christ our Lord. The Church will be so successful in spreading this glorious knowledge in the world that God says the earth will be as full of it as the waters that fill the ocean. Attend church and become a part of this great undertaking.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for men to respect that love by loving His neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long endure and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Man arrested for murder in shooting brawl

PAHOKEE—One woman was killed and another badly injured in a shooting that occurred Monday afternoon at the home of one of the victims, Gussie Mae Floyd, age 27, of 631 Amariylls Ave.

According to Palm Beach County Sheriff's Detective Harry Driggers, Ms. Floyd and her mother, Lucille Houston, were alone in the house with Ms. Floyd's 12-year old daughter, when the suspect, Atley Uriah Smith, age 42, entered with a gun in his hand. Ms. Floyd yelled to her mother not to let him come in and kill them. Her mother then struck Smith in the head with a baseball bat and Smith fired a second shot, hitting Mrs. Houston in the stomach.

Ms. Floyd tried to leave. Detective Driggers said, but Smith caught her in the yard and fired another shot when she fell to the ground. Smith then fired a second shot, walked off and returned to his car with a baseball bat. Ms. Floyd's daughter was present and witnessed the entire dispute, Driggers said.

The mother, Lucille Houston, is still at Everglades Memorial Hospital, following surgery. Her condition was stable, but as of Tuesday, she was not aware that her daughter had expired. Funeral arrangements have been made for Ms. Floyd.

Smith has been taken into custody and charged with first degree murder and attempted murder. He was arrested and held in the Belle Glade City Jail and appeared before Judge Don Adams Tuesday morning for arraignment. He was then taken to the county jail in West Palm Beach.

Hatton, Miners qualify for City Council seats

PAHOKEE—Julian Ray Hatton and Curtis Miners have qualified to run for city council seats in the May 3 election of the City of Pahokee.

Hatton, of 2927 Bacom Point Rd. was the first to qualify, arriving at City Hall before the doors opened last Friday. Hatton, age 46, is a farmer who is presently completing his first term as city councilman. The father of five children, he has qualified for group one.

Miners, of 316 Kismet Ave., qualified on the same day for group two, the seat now occupied by A.J. Gamot, Sr. Miners operates a grocery business in Immokalee and has lived in Pahokee for 30 years.

"I have plenty of time to do things, working two days a week, so I am semi-retired," Miners said.

That is one reason for his interest in occupying a council seat. Miners has three children and served as a city councilman during the 1966-68 term.

The qualifying deadline is 5 p.m. on April 1, according to City Clerk Betty McCoy, and candidates must file a $10 qualifying fee at the City Hall.

Purchase order increases to be discussed

PAHOKEE—An attempt by Councilman J. Ray Hatton to reach an agreement on the increase in purchase orders that was vetoed by Mayor Duncan Padgett, ended in the scheduling of a workshop between the city council and the mayor to discuss the matter.

"I am under the impression that we are in basic agreement on the ordinance except for the top bracket," Hatton said. The top bracket allows purchase order of $1,500 to $2,500 to be made with 4/5 vote of the council, without requiring the city to advertise for bids.

"This matter is real serious and something should be done about it. What we have now is not workable," City Attorney Ralph Johnson said.

At this time, Hatton stated "I am signing no more bills for purchases that have already been made. If somebody complains, I'm liable. I'm not going to continue to stick my neck out."

City Clerk Betty McCoy said she has also been signing purchase orders "after the fact" when the department heads are supposed to get approval from a councilman and Mrs. McCoy for purchases of between $100 and $500 before the purchases are made.

In other council action, Carl Gerken, vice president of Russell and Axon Engineering firm, received council approval for the waterfront plans, enabling the firm to proceed with acquiring the necessary agency approval for development of a waterfront project on the lake.

Mayor Padgett and Councilman Hatton were appointed as a committee of two to examine the air conditioning problem at the Loula V. York Memorial Library, authorizing the advertising for bids after bid specifications are made.

Owners of trailers who had been issued temporary permits for placing trailers on non-conforming zoning areas, because of lack of space, will be notified that the permits will expire on September 30.

It had been previously agreed that once space was available, that once space was available, temporary permits would not be issued. And City Building Inspector Phelix Slonaker told the council "there are plenty of trailer spaces available."

Councilman Hatton noted that adequate notice should be given, providing some basis for hardship hearing cases.

Council agreed that after Sept. 30, no renewal of trailer permits should be made except for extreme hardship cases, providing there is trailer space available to move into. They will request that the area zoning board make a recommendation to the council.

The council also unanimously agreed that former city employee, See Purchase, Page 7

Community Development program is outlined

PAHOKEE The Community Development program for the City of Pahokee was outlined at this week's city council meeting. In order of priority, the plan will include the following:

1. Approve tentative plans for a recreation room at the park and Comprehensive Plan payments from present year funding — $80,000.
2. Apply for a grant in the amount of $150,000 for acquisition of land or development of parks.
3. Condemn certain parcels of land inside the city for parking lots.
4. Provide a swimming area at the state park development and
5. Upgrade the waterline to the Streamline area over-head storage tank.

Bill Brinson of Adley Associates, Inc., the firm originally approved by the council for planning of the city park, appeared before the council to discuss Adley's contract with the city.

"It would be a general contract with a continuing consultant arrangement," Brinson said. He noted a fee schedule of $31 per hour and stated "basically you can write us a letter and tell us what you want us to do." The change in the use of the firm from a specific park planner to a general consultant resulted from additional information from Ansell Jeffries, Jr., Community Development Director, giving the council hopes of receiving funds from Community Development and perhaps engineering work also on the park plan.

Upon Councilman J. Ray Hatton's motion to instruct the mayor and the city clerk to sign the contract upon approval by City Attorney Ralph Johnson, Mayor Duncan Padgett told the council, "I'm absolutely unfamiliar with the whole proceedings. The mayor had been absent from several meetings due to ill health. 'I would like to have more time to review it myself,' the Mayor said. 'Personally, I don't agree with it and I don't want to sign anything without knowing more about it.'" said Padgett.

Tenants approach mayor for PHA removal action

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee Housing Authority Tenant Association, through officers Ethel Barnes president and Loran Barnes, vice president, appealed to Mayor Duncan Padgett in a letter asking for the removal of Israel Cooper from the PHA Board of Commissioners.

The mayor informed Mrs. Barnes at the Tuesday night council meeting that he had just received the letter that morning so he had not had a chance to read it, and thus did not know the details of the letter.

"We charge that Mr. Cooper has neglected his duties by not showing any concern for the tenants or their problems. Although Mr. Cooper was appointed to the Board of Commissioners as a representative of the tenants, he has only attended one (1) tenant meeting. We further charge Mr. Cooper with misconduct in office," the letter stated.

The mayor told Barnes that he has nothing to do with the firing of the commissioners and that they the tenants, would "have to bring charges against him and then have a hearing before the city council. I think they (the council) have the authority to remove him if they find him unfit for office."

"I think there is strictly a misunderstanding about Mr. Cooper. The court order said we must have a black attendant on the board. He was assigned no other business besides the regular business of the other board members. His duties were not spelled out in the court order other than the duties of the other board members and he couldn't represent one party any more than the others."

"We were asking for a representative of the tenants on the board," Mrs. Barnes stated. Concerning the charge of Mr. Cooper not attending tenant meetings or representing the tenants, the mayor stated, "You'll have the problem, you should go to him."

Mrs. Barnes retorted "So you want us to bring charges against him (Cooper) to the city council?" "I don't want you to, but I think that is the way to go about it. I don't intend to do anything about it," they mayor replied.

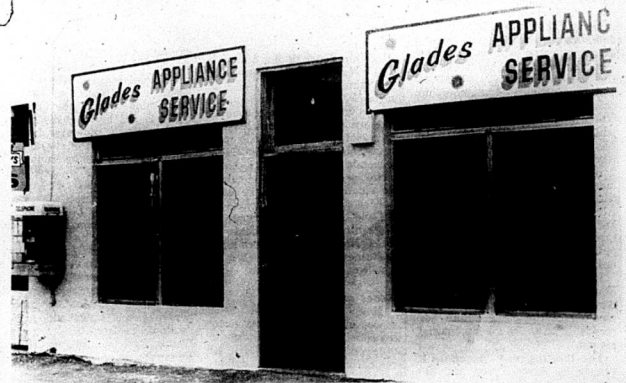

"If we find it is a valid complaint, we will have a hearing. You've got to have him come up here so we can hear his side of the story too," Councilman J. Ray Hatton told Mrs. Barnes.

Mayor Padgett and Attorney Ralph Johnson will discuss the situation and report back to the city council.

"We understand that's the way it would be before, but we came to the city council anyway. If there had been a white woman, they (council) would have done something about it," Barnes retorted as she walked to her seat.

A new look

The Trailways Bus Station in Pahokee has resumed operation and will be the new location for Glades Appliance Service.

Owner Jack Cushing is upgrading the building and will soon have a new appliance showroom inside.

Glades Appliance moves

PAHOKEE—The Trailways Bus Station on 766 Larrimore Road, is in operation again and Glades Appliance should be moved into the same building this weekend.

Because the building on 115 N. Lake Ave., where Glades Appliance has been located, was condemned, the service is moving to the Bus Station building where Jack Cushing, owner of Glades Appliance and Pahokee Planter will provide both appliance and bus service.

"We can provide much better service here," said Cushing. "We'll service everything from vacuum cleaners to central airconditioning, and we will have a package pick-up for Trailways." People may also board buses at the station. The building is being repaired and upgraded for its new use.

"The biggest thing we will have is a new appliance showroom," Cushing stated. In addition to Glades Appliance, Cushing's wife Barbara will soon be opening her plant store beside the bus station building.

"The only misunderstanding there has been is that Glades Appliance is condemned. Glades Appliance is not condemned. The building is condemned. Glades Appliance is growing," Cushing assured us.

Cushing said he has plans for a carry-out food service to be located in the corner presently housing the Pahokee Planter and Glades Appliance. The Cushing's operated the Captain's Table Restaurant at that location several years ago before closing down and utilizing the space for Glades Appliance.

"This (condemning the building) was the best thing that could have happened to us," Cushing said.

East Lake culture tests found to be inconclusive

PAHOKEE—Results of lab tests conducted on cultures of the food that was suspected to be the cause of a sickness affecting students and teachers of East Lake Middle School in Pahokee last month were found to be inconclusive.

"We know nothing definite in terms of the cultures and pathogens from the food samples," said Mr. Dennis Galati, Assistant to Mr. Charles Rhodes of the Environmental Sanitation Department in West Palm Beach.

"That is usually the fact in a case such as this. Most of the food that was contaminated had already been consumed," Galati said. "It's generally a problem getting samples."

Food poisoning was the suspected cause of the illness contracted by approximately 200 people, predominantly students, on Feb. 4 and 5. Children began exhibiting the common symptoms of vomiting, diarrhea and cramping after consuming Wednesday's cafeteria meal of turkey and gravy at the East Lake School.

"There is only so much we can do after the fact," Galati said. "The samples were not conclusive."

Local girl comes home to intern in Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE—The Belle Glade Elementary School, had for this past school year a special guest in their faculty.

Miss Bertha Mateu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mateu of Belle Glade, has been doing her intern program as a student teacher since January at Belle Glade Elementary. Miss Mateu is a 1973 graduate of Glades Central High School and a 1975 Palm Beach Jr. College Lake Worth graduate. She will soon graduate from Florida Atlantic University with a major in Elementary School Education and a minor in History and Spanish.

During her intern program she's teaching, Mrs. Lucida Hearst's second grade class of 26 students most of them Miss Mateu's age at the time she was a student at Belle Glade Elementary.

Miss Mateu said she wants to thank Mrs. Hearst for the help she has been doing during her intern program at Belle Glade Elementary, "and you could write that on the paper too you know," she said.

Miss Mateu explained the program and what was expected of the students. She said, "we are on our own but then again we have a supervisor teacher that comes every three weeks to check our progress, and we have to present them with a class plus an outline of what the class is based on." We get a grade on it and it is a very important part of our final grades.

Dr. Carmen Morales has been Bertha Mateu's supervisor teacher from F.A.U. and she has given Miss Mateu from her three visits three excellent reports.

Miss Mateu has been in Belle Glade Elementary four months, during this time she had won the love of the students as well as the faculty. One of her students said, "we don't want her to go; she's very nice and we all like her very much." Miss Mateu has promised Mrs. Hearst's second graders that this last week will be full of fun and games and that they will enjoy themselves very much.

Miss Bertha Mateu will be graduating with honors this coming March 18, at Florida Atlantic University, but she said "after I graduate I think I'll go back and take some classes for my Masters in September."

Miss Bertha Mateu, during her class hour on Belle Glade Elementary, accompanied by her students that have a lot of questions regarding the lecture she gave. Miss Mateu is an intern from Florida Atlantic University and is a native of Belle Glade.

Civil Defense seeks monitoring station

PAHOKEE—Pahokee will have a radiological monitoring station in a few months if the search for an appropriate building proves to be successful.

The Pahokee Fire Department was included in the Palm Beach County Civil Defense list to update the number of monitoring stations that provide protection from radiological fallout.

Jim Cogswell, plans and operations coordinator for the Palm Beach County Civil Defense, said they are trying to find a location in Pahokee - "a large building that will provide some protection from fallout where there is a staff or people nearby who could be trained to operate the station."

Eleven new stations will be in operation and will either exchange monitoring kits for shelter kits held by other stations or be issued monitoring kits. Pahokee will be issued a kit.

"The kit contains three different types of instruments to monitor different levels of radiation," Cogswell said. Although he stated that the Pahokee Fire Department had a monitoring kit, Chief Cecil Phillips and Assistant Chief Danny Denton said they had received nothing from the Civil Defense except a letter outlining the program.

Miss Jane Allen, Deputy Director, will deliver the monitoring kits and review operating and reporting procedures with personnel of each new monitoring station.

According to Robert C. Owen, Director, as stated in the letter, "When the monitoring station program is ready to function, semi-annual exercises will be resumed by sending each station a plaque containing radioactive material (beta emitter) and information regarding the exercise."

To demonstrate the use of a radioactivity monitoring station, Cogswell described a hypothetical situation in which "let's say there was a nuclear war in Tampa. Radioactive material in the weapons may not reach Pahokee directly but they could drift in the wind and contaminate the Pahokee area. With a monitoring station, as soon as we began to get readings, we would know to get the people under shelter."

Presently, Belle Glade has the only monitoring station and shelter in the Glades area. The monitoring station is located at the Belle Glade Fire Department and the shelter is Glades General Hospital.

SIBONEY MOTOR CENTER management promoted a unique experiment two weeks ago...they paid all their employees off in silver dollars - some 35,000 of them. The idea was to illustrate to local merchants the fact that income from a home town generates 10 times through the economy in income. Shown above is the crew from Siboney headquarters on N.W. Avenue L counting out the massive amount of silver.

New 9,000 square foot Ben Franklin to open soon

By Andy Campanaro

A 9,000-square-foot Ben Franklin store will be opening next to Diana Shops on Avenue A, managed by Steve Hodachok (a story of whom appears elsewhere on these pages).

The Ben Franklin chain store is privately-owned and operated as part of a powerful retail network. This past fiscal year, the chain stores hauled in half a billion dollars in sales and by 1980, chainwide sales will total $1.2 billion.

This year alone, the chain added 1.2 million square feet of selling space. One-fourth of this added footage results from the remodeling, expansion, and relocation of existing stores, while the remaining three-fourths comes from the launching of 90 new units.

(Ben Franklin has taken advantage of the old Grants troubles some years ago. Local citizens will note the new store opens in the old Grants facility here.)

A Ben Franklin here is as individual as the owner - and the community it serves. In Belle Glade, the store will be closely approximating a five-and-dime variety. Some things, according to owner spokesman Larry Parrish, the store will feature are ladies readywear, pets and pet supplies, and plenty of toys and family consumer items.

"Anything we don't stock immediately, we probably can get," says manager Hodachok. "We have a national distribution system that operates through eight regional distribution centers. This means that each area gets specialized service to suit its own needs."

Since this area is basically a farming area, quality tools and hardware will be available through that pipeline, with many different items on stock display, Hodachok said.

In merchandising, Ben Franklin sticks to basics, e.g., toys under $4, back-to-school merchandise, health and beauty aids, Christmas and other festive decorations, hand basic ready-to-wear.

On a $1 to $10 chain price point graph, Ben Franklin fits in with K-Mart and TG&Y, just above McCrory and below Sears, Penney and Wards in cost.

"We say 'welcome' to manager Steve Hodachok and his Ben Franklin store."

While we're talking about big stores, I'd like to mention an interesting phone call I got last week. An out-of-town realtor said he was selling Belle Glade-Pahokee as a site for a 60,000-plus square foot retail store. If it comes here, whatever it is, this man says it would employ more than 100 persons and bring competitive prices to the area.

6B-HERALD-OBSERVER, Thurs., March 10, 1977

Well, there are always enquiries, and there are always rumors, but the man sounded rather excited. Maybe it will be, and maybe twont. We'll just have to wait and see.

TIDBITS

Glades Appliance Service is very alive and well in Pahokee... it's just the building they have been operating out of is condemned...they are moving to the old station, says owner Jack Cushing (a fuller story on that coming up soon)...word is some 2,000 off-shore people are going back this week and soon the area will dry up again...a new Royal's store going in the Plaza down in South Bay -- more on that next issue...Mathis Gifts sold their store - again more on that next week.

Tom and Al Rumpfelt are surely moving into prominence in the Glades. The two Clewiston brothers have their insurance agency in Pahokee and just a while ago opened up Burger World in the old Royal Castle premises.

Manager or insurance agent for the new Belle Glade insurance agency on Main Street is Ron Cooper, 26, 329 E. Alverdez, Clewiston.

Cooper is a native Belle Gladean (can I do that?) and was graduated from Glades Central when it was Belle Glade High. He attended Palm Beach Junior College and currently is single (get that, girls). He's in the office to sell all forms of insurance from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and Saturday mornings.

Another new management position at Burger World is Mitzi Crews, 28, 908 NE 1st Street, Belle Glade. She originally hails from Georgia (a Georgia peach?) and is a graduate of Crystal River High. She's been here about six years and has a little boy, Craig, 8, who attends Gove Elementary School.

As an aside, it's interesting to note Coop's comments about what the coast Palm Beach JC people think of us out here... "wildmen," so Coop says. One time a Belle Gladean (I like that) told a class at FBJC that he had to take an airport for 20 miles in order to get home to Belle Glade and they believed him.

Cal Lockwood, 52, has Cal's Gun Shop (and CB radios and advertising specialties), which is two and a half years old at 808 1/2 West Canal Street.

Originally from Denver, Colorado, Cal moved here in 1950 and resettled in Belle Glade in 1962. A Florida Highway Patrolman for nine and a half years, he also was a foreman for the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative before doing detective work for the Belle Glade Police Department.

Although Cal's shop is small in size, his thorough knowledge of shooting irons and the quality pieces he sells bring buffs together over a cup of coffee every afternoon to discuss the merits of the various quality pieces he sells and services.

Although Cal's advertising devices - matchcovers, pens, et cetera, and his citizen's band radio trade keep him busy, he's always got time to look at and discuss quality irons.

Census survey seeking employment status data

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of March 14-19, Thomas W. McWhirter, director of the Bureau's Regional office in Atlanta, announced today.

In addition to the usual questions on current employment, this month's survey will have questions on the income and work experience of household members last year. The survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically-designed sample of approximately 70,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the nation.

For example, in January the survey indicated that of the 95.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 88.6 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 7.3 percent, down from a revised level of 7.8 in December and substantially below the recession peak of 8.9 percent reached in the second quarter in 1975.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Interviewers who will visit households in this area include: Mrs. Doris Rosenberg, Mrs. Betty Garriga and Mrs. Selma Leavitt.

Still another change may be the slowing down of body processes and therefore the taking in of fewer calories, reports Mrs. Jones. But you can keep fit even when taking in less calories if they include essential vitamins, minerals, proteins, carbohydrates, and water.

So the message is, eat smart, eat smart. You will be fit and, as a result, be able to participate in indoor or outdoor activities that you enjoy.

For more information on each of these changes and their influence on your health, read later parts of this series, Smart Eating In The Later Years, or contact your county Extension Agent, Mrs. C. Jones, 531 North 1st Military Trail, West Palm Beach, Florida 33406, or phone 683-1217.
